

Nickelson Participates in St. Louis Diversity Job Fair

For several years, HeplerBroom has been a proud sponsor of the St. Louis Diversity Job Fair. During the summer of 2018, Rebecca Nickelson, a partner in the firm's St. Louis office, took part in the eleventh annual Fair. She met with numerous law students to interview them for Summer Associate positions with the firm.

The primary goal of the Fair is to attract a diverse group of second- and third-year students to the metropolitan St. Louis legal community, encourage them to practice law in the area, and inspire them to become an integral part of the community. In addition to the opportunity to interview with area law firms, students have the opportunity to attend a series of mentor dinners with area attorneys and judges, a keynote luncheon, sessions on interview tips, and meet with attorneys from participating firms.

Nickelson focuses her legal practice on the defense of asbestos and other toxic tort matters, including product and premises liability. She is a former Chair of the Women in the Legal Profession Section of BAMSL and is currently on the leadership team for DRI's Women in the Law Committee. She speaks frequently about toxic tort and diversity issues.
