

Real Estate

HeplerBroom's real estate attorneys work closely with each client to understand his or her unique circumstances.

We apply the insight we've gained from our broad level of experience to help the client develop and implement an effective strategy to achieve and accomplish real estate goals.

We've successfully represented a variety of clients in everyday as well as complex commercial and residential real estate transactions and litigation. Our clients include:

- private landowners
- financial institutions
- tenants
- investors
- contractors
- developers
- landlords
- governmental agencies

In addition to working with a wide range of clients, we also have extensive experience handling a wide range of real estate matters, including:

- easements
- eminent domain
- forcible entry and detainer
- foreclosure on commercial and residential properties
- specific performance, including injunctive relief
- mechanics' liens
- drainage actions
- quiet title actions
- partition actions
